CHILD RIGHTS ACT (ENFORCEMENT PROCEDURE) RULES 2013

Title

In the exercise of the powers conferred on me as the Chief Judge of the High Court of the Federal Capital Territory, under Section 259 of the Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, 1999 (as amended), and in giving effect to Section 49(1) of the Child Rights Act 2003, I, HON. JUSTICE ISHAQ USMAN BELLO hereby make these Rules of Procedure for the enforcement of child rights in the Family Courts within the Federal Capital Territory.

*Establishment of Child Rights Act.
(Enforcement Procedure) Rules*

OVERRIDING OBJECTIVES

1. The Court shall constantly and conscientiously seek to give effect to the overriding objectives of these Rules at every stage of child rights proceedings, especially whenever it exercises any power given it by these Rules or any other law or enactment, and whenever it applies or interprets any rule.
2. The best interest of a child shall be of paramount consideration in all actions or decisions of the Court and all proceedings shall be conducted in an atmosphere of understanding for the child to participate and express himself/herself freely.
3. Cases shall be dealt with in ways which are proportionate to the nature, importance and complexity of the issues and to the needs of the child and society.
4. The Court shall constantly and conscientiously interpret the Act in a manner that will safeguard the interest of the child at all times, especially their personality, talents, mental and physical ability and their overall development.

3. Any leave granted under Rule 2 shall be restricted only to the expert named and the field or areas in respect of which the leave is sought.
4. Where two or more parties wish to submit expert evidence on a particular issue, the Court may direct that the evidence on that issue be given by a single joint expert agreed upon by the parties. Use of single Joint Expert
5. Where the parties who wish to submit expert evidence cannot agree on a single joint expert, the Court may –
 - (a) select the expert from a list prepared or identified by the instructing parties.
 - (b) direct that the expert be selected in such other manner as the Court thinks appropriate.
6. Where the court gives the direction as in Rule 5 above, it shall order that the named expert be served with a copy of the directions.
7. The Court may give directions with respect to:
 - (a) the amount of fees or expenses to be paid to an expert by and fees or expenses of an expert to be recovered from any party;
 - (b) any inspection, examination or assessment which the expert wishes to carry out.Direction on Expert fees and Expenses and on inspection, examination or assessment
8. Unless otherwise directed by the Court, the instructing parties shall be jointly and severally liable for the payment of the experts' fees and expenses.
9. The duty of experts shall be only to assist the Court in matters within their expertise and this duty shall override any obligation to the persons who have engaged them. Duty of Experts
10. Unless the Court directs otherwise, the evidence of experts shall be made in a written report which shall contain a statement that the expert has understood the instructions and had complied with Report by Experts his duty to the Court as well as the requirements of this Order or any Practice Direction.

11. Instructions to experts shall not be privileged from disclosure.
12. Any party may make use of a disclosed expert report as an evidence at the hearing for the purpose for which it was made. Use of Expert Reports
13. The Court may where appropriate and at any stage of the proceedings direct a discussion between experts with a view to discussing the issues in respect of which expert evidence is required and where possible reaching an agreed opinion on those issues. Directions by Court to Experts
14. In issuing a direction under Rule 13 above, the Court may specify the issues which the experts must discuss and where appropriate require them to specify the issues on which they have agreed and/ or disagreed with reasons for the disagreement.
15. The experts may file written requests to the Court for direction for the purpose of carrying out their functions. Request for direction by Experts
16. Where an expert intends to file a written request to the Court for direction under Rule 15 above, he shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, serve copies of his written request –
 - (a) on the party instructing him at least 7 days before the request is filed; and
 - (b) on the other parties at least 4 days before the request is filed.
17. Where the Court gives direction under Rule 16 above, it may also direct that a party be served with a copy of the direction.

PART 2

ORDER 20: PROTECTION OF CHILDREN

1. In an application under this Parts: IV, V, VI, VII and VIII of the Act, the Court may, where it is satisfied that the requirements (provisions) of the Act have been complied with, grant the orders sought, or having reference to the circumstances of the case, substitute the orders sought with any other order or orders or make additional orders, as may be just. Court's discretion in proceedings under this Part.

18. Where the Court does not release on bail a child who admits to committing one or more offences, the Court shall remand the child to a State Government accommodation. The Court shall, in so doing, designate the authority which is to receive him, and in the case of a child already being looked after by the State Government, it shall be that State Government, and in any other case, the Government of the State within which the child resides or in which the offence or one of the offences was committed. Where a court does not release on bail a child who admit committing offense
19. Where a child is remanded to a State Government accommodation, it shall be lawful for any person acting on behalf of the designated State to detain him. Where child is remanded by State Government
20. The Court may, in remanding a child to a State Government accommodation, impose security requirements, but such requirements shall not be imposed unless the child has attained the age of 15 years and only if he is charged with or had been found to have committed a violent or sexual offence or an offence punishable with imprisonment for a term of 14 years or more, or he has a recent history of absconding while on remand in a state Government accommodation and he is charged with or has been found to have committed on offence punishable with imprisonment while on remand and the Court is of the opinion that only such requirement will be adequate to protect the public from serious harm from the child. Power of court to impose security as attained
21. Where the Court imposes a security requirement in respect of a child, it shall state it is of such opinion as is mentioned in Rule 20 above and explain to the child in ordinary language the reason the Court is of that opinion, and the Court shall cause a reason stated by it under Rule 20 above to be specified in the warrant of committal and to be entered in the Court Register. Court to state his opinion in imposing security

22. A Court remanding a child to a state Government accommodation without imposing a security requirement may after consultation with the designated State Government require that the child complies with any such conditions as could be imposed if he were being granted bail. Where no security is imposed
23. Where a Court imposes on a child any condition as is mentioned in Rule 22 above, it shall explain to the child in ordinary language the reason it is imposing the condition and the Court shall cause the reason stated by it under this Rule to be specified in the warrant of committal and to be entered in the Court Register. Reasons for imposing security to be explained to the child
24. A Court remanding a child to a State Government accommodation without imposing security requirement, may after consultation with the designated State Government, impose on that State Government requirements for securing compliance with any condition imposed on that person under Rule 23 above or stipulate that he shall not be placed with a named person. State Government to secure compliance
25. Where a child is remanded to the State Government accommodation, the Court may, on the application of the designated State Government, impose, vary or revoke any condition under Rules 22, 23 and 24 above. Power of court to revoke conditions
26. Before a case against a child, other than those involving minor offences, is finally disposed, a social enquiry under Section 219 of the Act shall be ordered by the Court to be conducted by the appropriate officers and information relating to such enquiry submitted to the Court. Social enquiry required
